

Albert Mongeon

Albert (Al) Mongeon, currently Coordinator of homeland security activities and business continuity planning for National Weather Service. I'm a Certified Business Continuity Planner and have been doing BCP for about 12 years for NWS and our parent organization National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA). I also assist FEMA's National Exercise Division with environmental aspects of exercises.

I've been with NWS for 20 years, starting out in telecommunications and moving to resource management before my current position. Before NWS I was Lead Systems Engineer for Weather Systems for Martin-Marietta supporting the FAA National Airspace System modernization. Al spent 20 years in the Air Force as a meteorologist.